THE PARKS THERE really impressed me, especially those in Leningrad. They for the most part resemble the parks in Chicago, only more beautiful. You can walk in them alone at night without fear of having someone jump at you from behind a tree.

Also, there the parks are more numerous. Leningrad has about 100 parks, everything from a beautiful area in front of St. Issae's Carbedral which is about the size of our Emerson Park, to a seaside park which is undoubtedly bigger than the entire area of Mount Prospect.

You just did. Show them this letter, then sit down with them and TALK about it.

SCHOOL DROPOUT

Dear Lee Jasson.
Two years ago I dropped out of high school. Since then I have worked at a job I enjoy very much. But now I realize bow important it is for me to get my high school diplome. Because of my job. I can't go back to regular high school. Is there any special program that helps people like me so I can graduate? I tell all the high school kids I see to say in school to sto bey don't.

You've Indry. Your high school has a special program for persons just like you, or do a number of high schools. Talk with your commistion. Comprisisations on your decision. After you get your diploms, keep going. Good luck.

Send your questions to Lee Janson, c/o Day Publication 117 S. Main St., Mount Prospect, Illinois 60056.

Something Different for Cooking on the Grill

Now, oe this last long summer weekend, how about tack-ling something different like this Skewered Mixed Grill. The recipe comes from The R. T. Fregch. Company's test kitchens, Though novel, it's fast and simple, suitable for a relaxed holiday meal.

MEATBALLS, SPARKED with worcestershire sauce and gartic sail, are threaded on skewers with bacon stices woven under and over in an S-shaped pattern. Bacon, a built-in baste, is also wrapped acount frankfurter pieces before skewering. Serve the meats with

By Herb Brades

Only on rare and wonderful occasions does everything go right with the production of a play. A playwright somehow capsulates part of the essence of life. A director assembles a cast matched to each other and cast matched to each other and matched to the parts they play, technical people clothe and equip the actors, give them a setting to work in, lights to work under. Then an audience assembles and a bit of magic takes place. Synthesized life akes on a genuine life of its own.
